Provincial Convention W.C.T.U. Here October

The sixteenth annual provincial convention of the W.C.T.U. will be held in the Evangelical Church, Didsbury, on October 9, 10 and 11. This is a great privilege for the people of Didsbury district, as this is the first provincial assembly to be held here. About 50 delegates are expected.

Friends can help by opening their homes to visitors and delegates. Convener of billeting committee, Mrs. E. Reitzel, Phone 96. Further announcements will appear later.

WHEAT POOL NOTES

The new Alberta Wheat Pool terminal will be taken over by the Alberta Pool Elevators organization some time during the latter part of this month. The new terminal which has a capacity of 2½ million bushels, is the largest and most modern elevator on the coast. There will be no ceremony in connection with the opening of this new structure.

New wheat samples coming in to the Wheat Pool office show a higher quality than last year's wheat. Protein content is ranging considerably higher.

Successful School Fair Held At Community

The following are the prize winners at the Mountain View School Fair which was held at the Community Hall on Saturday, Sept. 1. In all 416 prizes were won, which is a very creditable showing for a rural school district. Much credit is due the directors who gave freely of their time to make the fair such a success. The schools represented by the prize winners include Jutland, Neapolis, Grand Centre, Rosebud, Gore and Hanteliffe.

Ponoka Attendant Held For Doctor's Death

PONOKA, Sept. 18. — Walter Scott, 25-year old attendant at the Ponoka Mental Hospital, will face a charge of manslaughter before Magistrate G. Scott, at Ponoka, on Thursday morning, following the death last Saturday evening of Dr. Arthur Hobbs, V.S., former officer of the R.N.W.M.P., from injuries alleged by the authorities to have been sustained when Hobbs was attacked by Scott in the hospital on Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 12.

A post mortem examination showed that Dr. Hobbs suffered the fracture of seven ribs on his left side, one of which penetrated the left lung, fracture of one rib on the right side, innumerable body bruises and shock. Double pneumonia set in following the attack, and the veteran police officer died three days after the alleged attack.

Russell Lord, another attendant was an eye-witness of the assault and he reported the matter to the authorities the next day. At the inquest held at the hospital Monday evening, Lord stated that Scott attacked Dr. Hobbs when the latter refused to eat his midday meal. Seven other attendants, becoming enraged because Lord had reported the matter to Dr. Fitzpatrick, acting superintendent of the hospital, attacked Lord while he lay asleep in his bed.

The provincial police were summoned, Scott was placed under arrest on a charge of assault occasion-

Opening of the Duck Season Welcomed

Lured by ideal weather conditions dozens of hunters slipped out of town early last Saturday morning and welcomed the opening of the duck hunting season with the cracking of shotguns.

Limit bags were secured by a few of the parties. Large mallards were bagged in every part of the district.

The ducks were exceptionally tame, according to several reports.

ing bodily harm later, supplementing in favor of a charge of manslaughter. The seven attendants were arrested on charges of assault and they will be dismissed from the institution as soon as the court case has been completed. Dr. Fitzpatrick stated Tuesday morning.

A special committee of inquiry was sent down from Edmonton by Hon. Geo. Hoadley, minister of health, and after hearing the full details of the affair, they approved the manner in which the matter had been handled by Dr. Fitzpatrick and his subordinate officers, and instructed the attorney-general's department to complete the prosecution to the full extent of the law.

A. L. Smith, K.C., of Calgary will handle the prosecution in all cases and A. Bauman, of Ponoka, has been retained for the defence. — Calgary Herald.

Christianity's Next Task

The signing of (1), the Treaty of Versailles in which is incorporated the covenant of the League of Nations; (2), the naval treaties at Washington; and (3), the Kellogg anti-war declaration recently at Paris, were all hailed by press, pulpit and public as important milestones along the road to permanent world peace and a better understanding among the races of the earth. Special services were held in churches to mark some if not all of these events, while thousands of columns of editorial matter were printed lauding these notable efforts to put an end to racial animosities. And every word written or spoken in praise and support of these great peace movements was fully deserved.

But, notes the Literary Digest, the new programme for world-wide spiritual co-operation adopted by the International Missionary Council at its last meeting in Jerusalem may be considered as revolutionary in the ecclesiastical world as the above named three events are in the political world. All look to the promotion of peace, but the Jerusalem Conference, perhaps, probed deeper into the problems which agitate the world and array nation against nation, race against race, and, concludes the Literary Digest, while little publicity has been given to the deliberations and conclusions of the Conference held on the Mount of Olives, no bells rung or paeans of praise offered up, yet so much was done that posterity may rank Jerusalem with Geneva, Washington and Paris in the onward march of mankind toward international amity and the ending of racial hatred.

Among the subjects discussed on the sacred mount outside the Holy City were the race problem, the rights of minorities, the protection of women and children in industry, relations between strong and weak nations, the land question, intellectual and spiritual co-operation, relations between church and state, and various other phases of world peace. Specialists on race, industry, and international relations from the minorities section of the League of Nations and the Universities of London, Harvard and Columbia among other institutions, were present to contribute technical knowledge as these problems were attacked.

And with what result? Following lengthy and searching study of conditions as they now exist in countries all over the world, and the relation and duty of the Christian church thereto, this International Missionary Conference meeting at Jerusalem found that "the Church has not firmly and effectively set its face against race hatred, race envy, race contempt, or against racial, national and social pride, or against the lust for wealth and exploitation of the poor or weak."

It was evident right at the beginning of the Conference that the old attitude of superiority of the West over the East, regarding of Nordic civilization and the Christian religions as one and the same, was not acceptable. The idea of race superiority was not admitted for a moment, and the Conference indicated its belief that the basis of race prejudice is economic. In lands where races live side by side, participation by all in racial intermingling for social, cultural, and religious fellowship was declared to be the natural expression of Christianity, and was welcomed as a step toward world-wide understanding.

Who is there will deny that such belief and conclusions are in line with the teachings and spirit of the Founder of Christianity?

And does there not emanate from this Conference a special message for the people of Canada, and especially for the people of Western Canada? Of late there have been unfortunate revivals of ancient campaigns by certain classes of our people against other classes based solely on questions of race and creed. Most unfortunate of all is the fact that many of the leaders in these campaigns, which are a denial of Christ's whole life and teaching, are recognized leaders in the Christian church.

It is the fond hope and dearest ambition of many thousands of forward-looking, patriotic Canadians that this young Dominion reaching out in its new nationhood will become a power for good in the world; that its greatness will be found not alone in its wealth of natural resources, its far-reaching trade and commerce, its cultural attainments, but in those spiritual attainments and contributions to all mankind which, in the final analysis, are the true measures by which to estimate the greatness of any people or nation.

Good Job For Him

He was the slowest boy on earth, and finally he was apprenticed to a naturalist. He was so slow it took him an hour to feed the canary, two to stick pins through four butterflies, and after taking all afternoon to change the goldfishes' water, he asked what else he could do.

"Well," said his master, "you might take the tortoise for a run!"

When Pain Comes

What many people call indigestion very often means excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sours. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes acids instantly. And the best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali in water will neutralize instantly many times as much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this. Go get a small bottle to try.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any drugstore.

Tourist Trade Increasing

Figures For 1928 Will No Doubt Show Gain Over Last Year

While it was estimated that American tourists spent $200,000,000 in Canada last year, there is no doubt but that figures for 1928 will show fresh gains, stated R. K. Odell, assistant director of the natural resources intelligence service of the department of interior, who was in Edmonton in connection with affairs of his department.

Development of the tourist trade is of extreme importance to Canada and its value is fully recognized, said Mr. Odell. In carrying on its work, the federal branch is co-operating with the provincial governments and other local bodies.

ARE YOU RUN-DOWN?

All That Is Needed Is a Tonic To Build Up the Blood.

There are many people who have been semi-invalids so long that they accept their condition as a life burden. They have endured nervousness, broken sleep and a generally run-down feeling so long that they have given up hope of again enjoying good health. In most of these cases a well chosen diet, fresh air and a tonic to build up the blood would do wonders. And as a blood-building tonic no other medicine can compare with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. There is scarcely a spot in Canada where you will not find some formerly ailing person who has found new health through the use of this medicine. The experience of Mrs. Thomas Ahearn, St. Malo, Que., bears out these statements. She says: "I have the greatest reason to be thankful for what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for me. I was in a very weak and run-down condition. Frequently I would faint and my legs would swell badly. It was almost impossible to do any housework. It seemed as if my blood had turned to water. In this weak and despondent condition I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. A few boxes proved that they were helping me, but I continued taking the pills until I had used a dozen boxes, by which time I found myself a completely restored woman, able to do my work without fatigue, a better appetite and a sense of cheerfulness, where before I had been despondent. For all this, thanks to the health-giving qualities of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

If you are feeling run-down, give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial and new health will be yours. You can get the pills from any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Chicago Churches

Expenditure Of Twenty-Five Million Dollars On New Church Buildings Last Year

The Frenchman who remarked that the English must be an extraordinary dirty race, as they were always bathing, would probably say that Chicago's expenditure of $25,000,000 on new church buildings last year proved it a wicked city. This interpretation of its outlay on houses of worship would be as illogical as it would be ungenerous. A modern city does not have to be more than ordinarily ungodly to realize that the church stands for the highest ideals in home and State; that it is a rock upon which doubt, selfishness and greed eventually wear themselves out. William Hale Thompson and "Scarface" Al Capone to the contrary notwithstanding, Chicago probably stands in no greater need of churches than do some other American cities. The realization of its need in this respect is to Chicago's credit; and if, after having built the churches, Chicagoans fill them they will reap rich dividends in the finer things of life.—Detroit Free Press.

Prosperity In Central B.C.

D. D. Munro, provincial government land settlement agent, Smithers, reports that crop prospects for Central British Columbia this year are very good. He states that since the erection and operation of the grain elevator at Prince Rupert, a number of farmers are going in for grain-growing with splendid results. He also says that the increase in mining is having a very beneficial effect, and he is enthusiastic with respect to the future prospects of that territory.

Free Grant Homesteads

Unusual Activity Seen In Taking Up Land In Western Canada This Year

Official records show that during the first seven months of this year, a total of 6,734 free grant homesteads and 391 soldier grants were taken up in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia, representing 1,140,000 acres. The record for the corresponding period of 1927 was 3,675 homesteads and 288 soldier grants, representing 634,000 acres. In the seven months this year soldier grants only numbered 391 and last year 288. The entries in the respective provinces this year were as follows: Manitoba, 329; Saskatchewan, 2,186; Alberta, 4,156; British Columbia, 454.

MOST OF BRITISH HARVESTERS ARE MAKING GOOD

Winnipeg.—"We are just finding out the slackers, that's all, and I am quite confident that the majority of the men are making good," declared Hon. Robert Forke, Minister of Immigration, following a conference regarding British harvesters, which he had with Thomas Gelliey.

About six hundred have been sent back to England, Mr. Forke continued, and possibly two hundred more will go back as having failed to make good; but that left something like eight thousand British harvesters in the western fields, who were not being heard from because they were too busy working.

He had talked with the physician who had examined 200 of the men sent on their way home and only one out of the lot had been really physically unfit, and he was subject to epileptic fits. The others could have worked had they not lacked the will.

"There is plenty of work," said Mr. Forke, mentioning that 1,500 men had been wanted at Regina this morning.

He had himself come back all the way from Ottawa to see that the five British harvesters on his own farm got a good start. He thought the farmers who cut the wages of British harvesters because of inexperience were a little shabby," at the same time he agreed that men new to the work were bound to be inferior to experienced hands.

The minister warmly praised the work of Mr. Gelliey in handling affairs at the immigration sheds under most trying circumstances. "No one could have done it better," he said.

All physically unfit British harvesters will be returned to the Old Country, Mr. Forke asserted, regardless of their desire about remaining here.

A non-political commission for the supervising of British immigration is not held to be a probability by the Minister of Immigration.

"I do not foresee any definite changes which would relegate the immigration question to a non-political field," he said. "It is likely that it will continue to be in the hands of whatever government happens to be in power."

Nova Scotia Nominations

Liberals Will Have Candidates To Contest Every Seat

Halifax, N.S.—With 24 candidates already selected, and 11 conventions on the book, the task of choosing representatives of both parties to contest in the provincial election is more than half completed.

Among the four Conservatives re-nominated was Col. Gordon Harrington, Cape Breton Centre, minister of mines, the fourth member of the Rhodes cabinet to re-offer. Six opposition candidates were chosen.

It was definitely stated by Liberal organizers that no seats will be conceded the government by acclamation.

Old Age Pensions Paid

Amount In B.C. Totalling $441,222 Up To June Last

Ottawa, Ont.—Old age pensions totalling $441,222 had been paid up to June last, to 3,150 persons in British Columbia who had taken advantage of the scheme, according to statistics just compiled by the department of labor. Of this amount the federal government paid one-half.

British Columbia's pensioners comprised 22 per cent. of the population of that province over 70 years of age. The average monthly pension was $17.47, the pensioners being divided as 1,871 males and 1,279 females.

Property owned by these pensioners, is valued at $1,520,782. Of the pensioners in British Columbia, 271 were previous residents of Ontario, 257 of Alberta, 179 of Manitoba, 175 of Saskatchewan, 75 of Nova Scotia, 37 of Quebec, 18 of the Yukon, and 10 of Prince Edward Island. When any of those provinces come into the scheme a proportion paid to the pensioners in British Columbia will be charged to the respective provinces. Saskatchewan has been paying pensions since June and expects to have 1,000 on its payrolls in September.

Manitoba and the Yukon will be paying pensions soon.

New 'Plane Tested

Demonstration At Los Angeles Proves Automatic Landing Feasible

Los Angeles.—A tiny 'plane constructed on a new vertical principle, made successful test flights here, demonstrating, observers said, that an aircraft can make an automatic landing.

Merle F. Kelley, who piloted the 'plane, was said to have taken the craft from the ground on 8½ seconds, soared sharply upward, cruised at 100 miles an hour and then landed with both hands aloft.

The new principle was described by A. A. Merrill, inventor, as tilting the wings, which are a single unit in relation to the speed device in the cockpit.

The 'plane has a short fuselage and very little tail. In its construction the inventor was assisted by Dr. Clark Millikan, son of Dr. R. A. Millikan; Dr. Harry Bateman and Dr. A. L. Klein, all of the California Institute of Technology.

U.S. Navy Tests New Apparatus For Saving Sub Crews

Aboard Submarine Salvage Falcon, Off Solomon Islands, M.D.—Successful deep sea tests with the "lung"—the navy's new breathing device, intended to enable men trapped in sunken submarines to reach the surface safely, have been made and if future tests prove as encouraging, all naval subs. will be equipped with them.

Three naval divers descended in a diving bell to a depth of 155 feet and arose slowly, breathing high atmospheric oxygen through a mouthpiece from a rubber bag resting against their chests. They reported no discomfort. It is said to be the most practical device ever invented for the purpose.

No Secret Clauses In Agreement Says Briand

Geneva.—The much-discussed Franco-British naval accord is to be made public by France through the League of Nations committee of disarmament.

Foreign Minister Briand of France, announced this decision after a speech before the League Assembly in defence of the agreements. He said the understanding would be introduced merely in passing, as an example of efforts being made to hasten disarmament.

In his speech he asserted that there were no secret clauses in the agreement.

To Aid Non-Agrarians

Reduced Fares Arranged For Families Of Settlers Not Employed On Land

Ottawa.—Details of the extension of the assisted passage scheme to the wives and children of British settlers not employed on the land in Canada have been announced at the department of immigration. Assisted passages were formerly only given families of those who settled on the land.

A reduced steamship fare of $18.25 has been arranged through the co-operation of the British and Canadian Governments for the wives and children of those who were satisfactorily settled in Canada on June 6, of this year. Children under 17 years of age will be free. The Canadian Colonist railway fare to the destination is the only added charge.

The arrangement has been made in order to implement a recommendation of the agriculture and colonization committee made on June 5 last.

In order to avail himself of the reduced rates for his family the settler need only establish that he is successfully established in Canada and has a reasonable prospect of being able to support them.

To Reduce Traffic Accidents

Saskatchewan Government Would Encourage Garages To Use Headlight Testing Appliance

Regina.—Following up the recent conference called to consider ways and means of reducing traffic accidents, the Saskatchewan Government is now encouraging garages and filling stations to equip with a testing device for headlights, to allow a driver to quickly ascertain if his lights conform with provincial law.

The Saskatchewan law is that the beam must not be thrown higher than 42 inches at a distance of 75 feet. If the equipment installed by the service stations were found to come up to government standard, the government would then consider the plan of allowing the proprietors to issue certificates to drivers.

Ramsay MacDonald Sails

Says He Is Sorry To Leave Canada, But Will Return

Quebec.—"I have left my heart behind me, and am sorry that I did not miss the ship, in order that I might see more of Canada," declared Right Hon. Ramsay MacDonald, former premier of Great Britain, as he mounted the gangway of the Empress of Australia en route for Southampton.

"I am going home full of most pleasant recollections of Canada. You have a wonderful country," he added, "and I hope to be back again next year. If it were left to me I would be back again next month."

"Just as soon as ever I get back to England, I will plunge right into the political fight. The annual meeting of the Labor Party at Birmingham takes place first, and then I shall go to the continent for two weeks, but after that I shall get right into the thick of it, and prepare for the general elections, which will take place next year. The results will be very good for us."

Fire Destroys Famous Hotel

Manoir Richelieu At Murray Bay Is Smouldering Ruins

Murray Bay, Que.—All that now remains of the Manoir Richelieu, famous Canadian summer hotel here, is a smouldering waste of crumbling stone, charred rafters and twisted steel girders. Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the famous hostel which for years has been a mecca for tourists from other parts of Canada and the U.S.

According to officials of the Canada Steamship Lines, in Montreal, the loss, estimated at $500,000, is fully covered by insurance. Plans had recently been drawn up for the erection of a new building to be operated in conjunction with the manoir but now it is stated these plans will be altered to include the construction of an entire new building, which will be erected probably on the site of the destroyed manoir.

U.S. Building De Luxe 'Planes

Passengers Will Be Assured Of Every Convenience For Comfort

Los Angeles, Calif.—Four aeroplanes, capable of carrying 20 passengers, equipped with luxurious private apartments and sleeping berths, are being built by the Keystone Aircraft Corporation at Bristol, Penn., Edgar Scott, president of the firm has announced.

The new monoplanes, the largest ever built in America, are of all metal design and tri-motored. They can speed at 155 miles per hour. Provisions for hot and cold running water are made in the sleeping compartment and a radio will be installed.

Plot Nipped In Bud

Numerous Arrests Made In Spain Following Discovery Of Plot Against Government

New York.—Reports from the Franco-Spanish border say numerous arrests have been made in Spain after the discovery of a plot against the government of Primo De Rivera, who is about to celebrate his fifth anniversary as dictator of Spain.

A Hendays, France, despatch, says the arrests were reported to have been made in Madrid and other Spanish cities.

Infantile Paralysis In Montreal

Montreal.—Four cases of infantile paralysis were reported at the city hall in the past week and Dr. Boucher, medical officer, has issued a warning to take precautions against an epidemic.

NEW CABINET IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

Above are pictures of four members of the new cabinet in British Columbia. The yare: 1, Premier S. F. Tolmie; 2, W. C. Shelly, minister of finance; 3, Joshua Hinchcliffe, minister of education; 4, R. H. Pooley, attorney-general.

EVACUATION OF RHINELAND TO BE CONSIDERED

Geneva.—There are indications that Foreign Minister Briand of France, was ready for serious conversations on evacuation of the Rhineland.

In order to remain in Geneva for a second meeting of the powers on the question M. Briand cancelled a trip he had intended to make to Paris to attend a cabinet meeting.

At the first meeting on the subject, M. Briand, Chancellor Mueller of Germany, Under Secretary Von Schubert of the German foreign office, Lord Cushendun of Great Britain, V. Scialoja of Italy, M. Hymans of Belgium, and M. Lachi, of Japan, conferred.

Both M. Briand and Herr Mueller were smiling when they left the meeting. A communique issued later said:

"Conversations have commenced on the question of evacuation of the Rhineland, the discussion is still continuing and will be resumed on Thursday."

Opportunities In Peace River

Lord Lovat Finds That British Settlers Are Doing Well In North Country

Edmonton, Alta.—"There are wonderful opportunities for British settlers in the Peace River country," declared Lord Lovat, chairman of the British Overseas Settlement committee, on his return to Edmonton following a week's tour in Canada's far-flung country.

"We met several of the British families who were settled at various points throughout the Peace district under the 3,000 family scheme, and without exception, all these people are doing well, and are more than satisfied with their venture."

"Many of these men were miners, and few of them had any previous farming experience, but they are making good, and their experience shows clearly that given the will to succeed, lack of experience is no bar to success."

Lord Lovat found that over 3,000 homesteaders and settlers have gone into the Peace district this year, and everywhere there prevails a spirit of optimism for the future.

Chamberlain Is Improving

Health Of British Minister Of Foreign Affairs Is Much Better

Hamilton, Bermuda.—Sir Austen Chamberlain, British minister of foreign affairs, walked unaided down the gangplank of the steamer Orcoma here in a drizzle of rain. He and Lady Chamberlain and their children embarked on the launch of Col. E. B. Leigh, acting governor of Bermuda, and went ashore for a few hours stay at Clifton, the Leigh home at Prospect.

This is the first port in Sir Austen's long voyage at which he had disembarked. Observers contrasted his unaided steps down the gangplank with the fact that he was carried aboard the ship at Liverpool. Members of the party said that he was showing steady improvement in health.

Gas Poisons German City

Sulphurous Fumes From Lignite Mines Create Panic In Halle

Halle, Germany.—This city has had a taste of what it might expect in future wartime when aviators attack cities with gas.

A cloud of sulphurous gas was blown over the city from nearby lignite mines poisoning hundreds of residents, including many children. Many were made so ill they had to be treated by doctors.

The whole population was thrown into panic. It was necessary to close the schools.

France To Honor Tunney

Paris.—Convinced that Gene Tunney learned all about boxing in France, French sportsmen are affixing a plaque to a gymnasium at 26 rue de Pontoise where Tunney, as a Marine, in 1918, took some boxing lessons.

HONEST MERCHANDISING

It is the proud boast of business that salesmanship and the whole process of retail merchandising are on a higher plane than formerly. But there are abuses and excrescences which from time to time prove annoying and burdensome to the buying public as well as to the better merchandising elements. Our whole system of trade and credit is far too complicated to lay down the hard and fast rule that all purchases must be made at home, or to charge the consumer with disloyalty if he or she occasionally makes a purchase through the mails. Yet where quality, price and service are anything like equal, it is a poor citizen who does not give much of his patronage to home industries. Certainly it is a foolish and unthinking consumer who will listen to the blandishments of irresponsible strangers and outsiders with inferior goods to sell. It never does to say that any one form of merchandising is the best or only appropriate method. The local independent retailer, the chain store, the responsible mail-order house and the manufacturer with local representatives who call upon the housewife, all have their place. The solicitor is, of course, a welcome visitor if his goods are of superior quality. But unfortunately some house-to-house canvassing is cheap imposition. Some canvassers are frauds to begin with, and obtain entrance by misrepresentation. There is a happy common-sense medium about these matters. A man's or a woman's house is a good deal of a castle and should be treated with respect. Its invasion for business purposes should be under responsible auspices only.

IT IS FALL

Lodges are getting their winter's activities under way. Young folks are making Terpsichore again. Loud speakers are being installed & the radio. Study circles are resuming. There is hot competition around the reading lamp for possession of the home town paper. Bridge is still played. There is some demand for corn-poppers. The ice man looks a little glum, but the electric-light meter reader wears a smile like a split watermelon as he sets down the figures.

It has been a wonderfully fine summer with more than usual opportunities for outdoor enjoyments. But it will be fine to have the fall rains, too, and later the nip of frost and the sheen of snow. Just as one of the fine things about going away from home is to come back there, so one of the fine things about summer is that finally we come to its end and to normal change. Seasons lend variety and prevent monotony. And each of them in Didsbury is enjoyable.

A SCOURGE OF CHILDREN

During the months from May to November there is a "terror that walks by night," a whisper of whose presence makes parents tremble. This dreaded thing is Acute Poliomyelitis—Infantile Paralysis.

Infantile paralysis is a germ disease. It occurs most often in the months May to November, and most often among children, though adults are not by any means immune. The disease affects all races, all classes, and all parts of the world, but is more prevalent in colder climates. The robust child falls a victim as readily as the delicate child.

During an epidemic, rural communities suffer more than cities.

Infantile paralysis in its beginning resembles many other contagious diseases. A child that has been perfectly well will become restless and drowsy. He is irritable, and does not want to be moved. There may be vomiting or diarrhoea, but constipation is the rule. There may be headache, pains in the muscles, or a convulsion. The child is feverish. That may be all that appears, and yet within one or two days the child may be unable to move arms or legs.

If a child appears to have fever, vomiting and marked restlessness, put him to bed and call a doctor promptly. No matter how mild the sickness may seem, get a doctor. While waiting, give a dose of castor oil. Keep all other children away.

If there is an epidemic, keep your children away from crowds, from movies, theatres, dances, etc. Keep them from homes where there is sickness. Keep the house clean, using plenty of soap and water. Burn rubbish. Garbage buckets should be tightly covered, and cleaned daily. Keep out flies and other insects. Let in fresh air and sunlight—they are Nature's killer of germs.

GLIMPSES FROM THE PAST

20 YEARS AGO

C. R. Liesemer, who spent the biggest part of the summer in Ontario returned short while ago bringing with him his bride. They are taking over the G. P. Liesemer homestead two miles east of Neapolis.

A presentation was made in the Opera House Monday night by Mayor G. B. Sexsmith to Rev. J. S. Ferguson who with his wife is leaving Didsbury for Turkey where they are going as missionaries.

15 YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. A. Brusso spent the week end at Gull Lake on their holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Liesemer spent a few days in Calgary last week visiting with friends.

In a report published in Tuesday's Telegram (?) a railroad to be known as the Dominion Western Railway will be built through the country west of Didsbury and Olds.

10 YEARS AGO

A new building has been erected at the fair grounds to accommodate the smaller exhibits. This is a big improvement as in former years large tents had to be used.

Messrs. Stevens, Eubank and Deadrick have hired a gasoline tractor to pull their separator. The machine is now threshing on the Deadrick place.

The marriage of Miss Alice Stevens, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Stevens, to Mr. W. H. Rucker was solemnized on Wednesday, Sept. 11 at the lovely country home of the bride's parents. Mrs. A. G. Studer played the bridal chorus.

ITEMS OF INTEREST

Rev. John Hall Edminson, D.D., secretary of the Home Mission Board of the United Church of Canada, died at his home in Toronto on Saturday following a brief illness. Tourists Should Be Informed

As the tourist reaches our country he should be given a card containing full particulars in regard to highway regulations, the purchase and consumption of liquor and in reference to all other matters with which he should be familiar, while he is a guest of this province. It is a hardship to punish a visitor for transgressing a law in regard to which he has not been informed, a difficulty which would be completely overcome by the introduction of some such plan as this.

A WONDERFUL TRIBUTE

Baby's Own Tablets Declared To Be Worth Their Weight In Gold

A mother has only to use Baby's Own Tablets once to be convinced that nothing else can equal them in banishing the ills of her little ones. Once used, always used, as long as there are small children in the home—that is the tribute thousands of mothers pay the Tablets.

Among the many, many mothers who are anxious to tell of their experience with Baby's Own Tablets is Mrs. Griffith, of East Hamilton, Ont., who writes: "Shortly after coming to Canada I began giving the Tablets to my baby boy who was then six weeks old. The result was so pleasing that since that time I have always kept the Tablets in the house. I have two children now and both of them are the picture of health. Baby's Own Tablets are the only medicine they have ever had and I really believe the Tablets to be worth their weight in gold."

Baby's Own Tablets are free from all injurious drugs and can be given to the youngest babe with absolute safety. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Giant hunting grasshoppers nearly five inches long, that prey on small animals such as mice and the young of ground-nesting birds, are found in the Congo.

HE DIDN'T THINK DYSENTERY COULD BE RELIEVED

Mr. John Melling, Fenner, Alta., writes:—"I am a returned soldier, and when I came home from overseas I suffered greatly with dysentery. The doctor said it was chronic and did not think it could be relieved. However, he doctored me for quite a while, but did me no good. One day the druggist asked me if I had ever tried

"On his recommendation I bought a bottle and after I had taken it got some relief, so I got two more, and have never had the dysentery since 1925."

Historically speaking the Glasgow Town Hall is a comparatively recent building in the Venetian Renaissance style, and the hall in which we were entertained is lofty, airy and in its sheer spaciousness magnificent. Three beautiful wall paintings command attention, one depicting the legend of King Roderick and St. Mungo, the representation of which is still part of the City's coat of arms; a second a Glasgow scene of the Middle Ages, and it was interesting to note that in this scene was portrayed a Clydesdale, although the period covered is about 1500. The third is the Lusitania on the stocks of the Clyde before her completion. For all its comparative modernity, the banquet hall can boast a history. Queen Alexandra, King George, Queen Mary, and the Prince of Wales have dined in it. Every Prime Minister of Great Britain since 1889 has been the guest of the City there; and in July, 1914, three weeks before the war, the German burgomasters dined there after visiting the shipping centres of England and Scotland. Only two toasts were honored, "The King" and "The Kaiser," and the German and British National Anthems were sung. Soon after the burgomasters were hurrying home, their trip cut short by the outbreak of the Great War.

Sir David Mason and the Corporation entertained us in characteristic Scottish style. The haggis was piped in to the tune of "Happy We've Been a' the Gither" by the City of Glasgow Police Band, at the end of which ceremony the chairman proffered Pipe Major Gray the time-honored refreshment, acknowledgement by the Pipe Major with the traditional response, "Thanks and a health to you" spoken in Gaelic.

A little secret history attaches to the fine new leopard skin which was worn by the Pipe Major for the first time and in our honor. It appeared that circumstances had compelled the Corporation to wield the economy axe, and in doing so, they had decided to cut out one pair of trousers from the annual outfit of uniformed city officers. It was proposed to spend twenty guineas on a leopard skin for the Pipe Major, but this would hardly have done in view of the incident of the trousers. Happily, however, the difficulty was overcome by a public-spirited citizen who presented the City with a properly mounted skin.

There were two musical programs. Gaelic airs, marches, strathspeys and reels by the pipe band and selections by the City of Glasgow Police Orchestra who honored us by playing Canadian songs and dances. Glasgow indeed entertained us royally.

We spent our afternoon watching a football match as guests of the Corporation and thoroughly enjoyed the experience.

The European part of our official programme was now ended, but there was one unscheduled event for which the party was responsible. We had almost completed a wonderful tour. We had seen more in thirty-two days than perhaps any party of the same size had ever seen. Doors, for which money was no key, had been thrown open to us. Privileges jealously guarded and keenly sought had been freely accorded to the Canadian Farmers' Party, and the hearts of both high and low had been opened as well as doors. Throughout we had been cared for with something more than efficiency by those who had charge of us—the officials of the Canadian National and of the Globe Travel Bureau had become our friends. We would not part without returning thanks and expressing our esteem. So we hailed Mr. Weir, the organizer of the tour in Europe, Mr. Greff, organizer in Canada, and Mr. Strachan, agricultural representative for the Canadian National Railways in Winnipeg, before a mock tribunal, apparently to try them for their sins, but in reality to present the first two with a silver salver suitably inscribed, and Mr. Strachan with a case of pipes. Mr. W. A. Wilson, of Canada House, who had been guide, philosopher and friend on so many occasions; Mr. John L. Harvey, Mr. Turnham, and Mr. Whitby, of the Globe Travel Bureau, and the four trusty drivers, who had driven us and our baggage so many hundreds of miles in perfect safety were likewise brought before the "judge" (Mr. Arkell), Mr. Wilson, to receive a letter of thanks from the party, Mr. Harvey an illuminated testimonial, his colleagues each a letter of appreciation supplemented by a money gift.

When we had responded the "judge" himself was placed in the dock and was presented with a letter and a gold watch engraved with an inscription: the party's tribute to the manner in which he had carried out the duties of the position as leader to which we had elected him. Mr. Arkell had responded to the speeches of great men on great occasions, but never had he found his task of replying so difficult as he did this night, so overcome was he with the surprise we had secretly prepared.

These were not all we thanked. There was Mr. Dan Johnson, European Colonization Manager for the Canadian National Railways; "Brownie" (Mr. E. W. Brown), Mr.

Explanations and Comments

Paul had been asked in a letter from the Corinthian Church whether or not one might eat meat which had first been offered to idols. The letter probably suggested that, as an idol was not a real god, it did not matter if the food had been offered to it. The writers doubtless wished to be known as "the party which stood for liberty of conscience, and probably for the Pauline axiom, 'All things are lawful to me.'" Paul's answer follows in this eighth chapter.

Moffatt's version of Paul's words makes them so clear that explanations are unnecessary:

With regard to food that has been offered to idols. Here, of course, "we all possess knowledge!" Knowledge puffs up, love builds up. Whoever imagines he has attained to some degree of knowledge, does not possess the true knowledge yet; but if anyone loves God, he is known of Him. Well, then, with regard to food that has been offered to idols, I am quite aware that "there is no such thing as an idol in the world," and that "there is only the one God." (So-called gods there may be, in heaven or on earth—as indeed there are plenty of them, both gods and "lords"—but for us there is one God, the Father, from whom all comes, and for whom we exist.) But remember, it is not everyone who has this "knowledge." Some who have hitherto been accustomed to idols eat the food as food which has been really offered to an idol, and so their weaker conscience is contaminated. Now mere food will not bring us any nearer to God; if we abstain we do not lose anything, and if we eat we do not gain anything. But see that the exercise of your right does not prove any stumbling block to the weak. Suppose anyone sees you, a person of enlightened mind, reclining at meat inside an idol's temple; will that really "fortify his weak conscience?" Will it not embolden him to violate his scruples of conscience by eating food that has been offered to idols? He is ruined, this weak man, ruined by your "enlightened mind," this brother for whose sake Christ died! By sinning against the brotherhood in this way and wounding their weaker conscience, you are sinning against Christ. Therefore, if food is any hindrance to my brother's welfare, sooner than injure him I will never eat flesh as long as I live, never!

Johnson's assistant whose singing we shall never forget, especially the impromptu "How Do You Do" song which pilloried members of our party; Mr. Frank England, Mr. Weir's assistant, who, in the interests of Canada, saw that we were interviewed and photographed everywhere we went; and Miss Roberts, Mr. Weir's secretary, who was always ready to type our letters however pressed with urgent work.

Another song from "Brownie," then "Auld Lang Syne," the last verse sung with arms crossed and hands clasped concluded a happy evening.

Sunday found us perhaps a little glum, for quite a number of our party was remaining to visit friends or relations. We had found that Canadians are Canadians wherever they are, whatever Province they hale from; and it was with sincere regret that we parted at Greenock from those who stayed behind. At length we were off; the shores of Britain were lost in the oncoming night. Long live the Homeland: now for HOME!

"Good-bye old pal," Donald whispered, his arms about the collie's shaggy neck. The dog turned slowly and unwillingly toward the house. In the meantime, within the house, John McLean and his wife were discussing the possible result of the father's seeming severity.

"Donald is a great trial to us now, John," said the mother, "but we must not forget the happiness he has brought us in the past." She gazed long and lovingly at a photograph of her son as a child; then, with head bowed, her lips moved in silent prayer.

Upon his arrival at the wharf Donald found his baggage, destroyed the pass he had been in the habit of using, as his father was owner of the steamboat line, and bought a ticket to Bangor.

Reaching Bangor, he chose less expensive quarters than was his custom, locating at the Penobscot, on Exchange Street. In no mood for sleep, he decided to take a stroll. Outside an all-night restaurant was a long string of cars, and from within came the sound of happy laughter.

A feeling of loneliness, coupled with a slight hunger induced him to enter. A big man sitting at the counter, attacking vigorously a T-bone steak, was the centre of interest, as evidenced by the cluster of taxi-drivers and other night-lunchers about him. He wore a wide-brimmed hat, high leather boots, corduroy trousers, a blue flannel shirt, and a red-mackinaw coat hung on the wall behind him. Blond, sun-washed hair stood up from his head aggressively, and his steely blue eyes were set in a face tanned a brick red.

"Yes, sir," spoke the blond giant between mouthfuls, "she's a he-man's country, she is. None of your bum chow that I used to get here in these Eastern loggin' camps, sow-belly and beans three times a day, and workin' for forty dollars a month from daylight until dark. No, siree! Me for the Coast with its four bucks a day. And talk about grub! Say, there ain't any hotel that puts up better scollins than we get in the loggin' camps in good old B.C."

He looked around at his audience and, convinced that they were interested, he continued: "Yes, sir! British Columbia for mine. Say! What'd you think of three fir logs that makes a carload? Of cedars ten feet through? Of alders that you can't get your arms round? Some different than them toothpicks you got out there," jerking his thumb contemptuously toward the Penobscot River. "And minerals," he went on, "the mountains are filled with 'em—miles and miles that ain't never bin prospected. Prospectors comin' in every day with new strides. And talk about fish! I seen the fish so thick they choked the rivers; you could darn near walk on their backs. That's the country, fellers. That's the place for men with git-up-and-git." He finished his repast with a gulp of coffee, fished a sack of tobacco and brown paper from his pocket, and rolled a cigarette. "A brand new country," he ran on, his eyes shining with enthusiasm, "that ain't half explored yet, and richer 'n a pail of cream. How much do I owe you, boy?" he asked as he drew out a wad of banknotes, peeled a bill from the outside of the fat roll and threw it carelessly on the counter.

"Keep the change," he said with a lordly air, then swaggered through the door. Several of the taxi-drivers followed, loudly importuning him to ride.

Donald finished his lunch and sat for a time smoking.

"That guy was a nut to flash his poke in front of that gang," observed the waiter, "Guess he's big enough to take care of himself," he added.

As Donald stepped out of the restaurant he saw the big man across the street with four of his former audience. From the shadow of a doorway he saw the party enter a ramshackle building, after hearing one of them promise to get the Westerner a drink in spite of prohibition. Donald decided to walk by the place, and was startled by the sound of crashing glass and indications of a struggle.

"You will, will you?" he heard the unmistakable voice of the big Westerner.

With a bound Donald was at the door. He found the Westerner badly battered, but holding three men at bay. The fourth lay in a crumpled heap in the corner.

Only one of the men noticed Donald's entrance. He was a big, burly brute with the swarthy features of the Southern European, and he came straight for the intruder, crouching low. Donald's left hand caught him on the eye, and as his head flew back Donald crossed viciously with his right. The blow landed with an impact that sounded like a cleaver sinking into a meat block, and the man dropped as though shot.

A rat-faced man, standing near a side door with a bottle in his hand, shouted a warning as Donald sprang to the Westerner's assistance. Both men turned their heads. The ham-fist of the big blond giant struck the larger of the two men such a terrific blow on the side of the head that the recipient whirled completely around and sank dazedly to the floor.

"Duck!" yelled Donald, as he saw the little man's arm go back. The Westerner dropped, and not a second too soon. The bottle whizzed over his head, bringing a shower of plaster from the wall where it struck. With a curse the big man turned, but the little bottle-thrower had disappeared through the side door. The remaining thug, a tall, cadaverous looking youth, took one wild look round, then bolted through the front door.

The Westerner, gasping and rather pale, seized Donald's hand in his huge paw. "Pardner, you saved me from a hell of a lickin'! Bout two minutes more and . . ."

"Grab your coat and hat and we'll get out of here before the police come," interrupted Donald.

They went through the alley to Hammond Street, then down Exchange Street.

"Better come up to my room and have those cuts attended to," suggested Donald.

The Westerner touched gingerly the rapidly swelling lump over his ear. "You know," he observed, "those fellers never intended to start a rough-house. The little dip was pretty slick, but I caught him with his hand in my pocket, and when they saw that they had a fight in their hands, they tried to lay me out with a billy. Should have seen the funny look on that little rat's face when he lammed me with that loaded stick and I didn't go down. Guess this old bean of mine must run pretty heavy to bone," he finished with a chuckle. He looked at Donald curiously. "You sure handed it to that big dago quick. How did you horn in on the row anyhow?"

Donald told of being in the lunch-room when he had displayed his money, and of the waiter's subsequent remarks.

"Huh!" snorted the big man disgustedly, "guess I need a guard-deen." With the assistance of the obliging night-clerk, who furnished antiseptic and court plaster, they patched the hurts of the much-bruised Westerner.

When the clerk left the room the big man turned to Donald. "My name's Jack Gillis. What's yours?"

"Donald McLean."

"Damn good name," he averred, looking Donald over critically. "I bin visitin' my old home in Nova Scotia," he ran on. "Come down here to visit my sister. I'm gittin' homesick for the Pacific Slope, and I'm goin' to hit for B.C. tomorrow mornin'."

"I'm on my way to Vancouver," said Donald.

The effect of this statement on Gillis was electric. "Do you belong in B.C.?" he questioned excitedly.

Donald told him how his glowing description of that land of promise had induced him to go West, and that this would be his first visit to the Coast.

"Well," observed Gillis, "if I've been the means of addin' a man like you to the population of B.C., then Jack Gillis has done some good."

"That's a real compliment," smiled Donald.

"I'm goin' on the mornin' train," remarked Gillis. "I'd like to have you travel with me."

Donald nodded.

Rub It In For Lame Back.—A brisk rubbing with Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil will relieve lame back. The skin will immediately absorb the oil and it will penetrate the tissues and bring speedy relief. Try it and be convinced. As the liniment sinks in, the pain comes out and there are ample grounds for saying that it is an excellent article.

THERE is nothing that has ever taken Aspirin's place as an antidote for pain. It is safe, or physicians wouldn't use it, and endorse its use by others. Sure, or several million users would have turned to something else. But get the real Aspirin (at any drugstore) with Bayer on the box, and the word genuine printed in red:

Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada) indicating Bayer Manufacture. While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer manufacture, to assure the public against imitations, the Tablets will be stamped with their "Bayer Cross" trade mark.

Teeth and Health

Issued By The Canadian Dental Hygiene Council and Published By The Saskatchewan Dental Society

THE WISDOM TOOTH

Otherwise the third molar, the word "Wisdom" being of no real significance excepting as it relates to the period of eruption which is at the approach of adult age.

Perhaps it has been your good fortune not to have had this tooth erupt, for in truth, it is often a trouble bearer; it is the dental "degenerate"—generally stunted in size, but frequently absent altogether—but why missing?

This—the gradual lessening of the function of mastication and the reduction of the force of jaw movement, due to the substitution of softer and less gritty foods by civilized man, has led to a marked degeneracy of the dental mechanism.

So that, through economy of growth, due to disease, the tooth germ may fail to develop; or, developing, the jaws are so greatly contracted (through disease), that frequently there is lack of space for it to erupt into position—a condition analogous to that of the eyeless fish of the Mammoth Cave—Nature cutting off that which goes unused.

Just a word more: Occasionally the unnatural retention of this tooth in the jaw-so-called "impaction," leads to serious disturbances, neuralgic pains, local infection, or constitutional ills. So when your physician, finding no specific cause for your general ill health, orders that "impacted" wisdom removed, you will better understand the reason.

But don't worry should the wisdom teeth not erupt—the chances are that you have been spared trouble.

Chief Buffalo Child Long Lance

Talented Western Canadian Is Author Of New Book, Called "Long Lance"

A man of magnificent appearance came to the office of Cosmopolitan Book Corporation last year and asked questions on the technique of writing a book. He was not seen around the Cosmopolitan offices again for about a year. Then he returned with a complete manuscript, left it silently, and was gone again.

The next day the manuscript was circulating around the office, page by page, and being avidly read by half a dozen people at once.

The author was Buffalo Child Long Lance, a chief of the Blood Band of Blackfoot Indians. He had written how as a boy he suffered the tortures of training as a warrior and was educated in the teachings of medicine-men and wrinkled old braves. He had told the stories of a boyhood on horseback, of buffalo-hunting, bloody fighting, awesome "medicine," of capturing wild horses, of war and peace, sun dances and happy feasts.

Now a college graduate and an appointee by President Wilson to West Point; a hero of the World War, and a most charming personality, Chief Long Lance turned up as a literary man of a high order.

The book was a rare contribution to Americana. The publishers prevailed on him to let the book be called "Long Lance."

Chief Buffalo Child Long Lance is a most extraordinary personality. More than thirty years ago he was born an ordinary Indian baby on the western plains in what is now Alberta. To tell of his boyhood before the Blackfoot Indians signed a treaty and went to the reservation would take the edge off his amazing book.

Little Helps For This Week

"The Lord thy God, He it is that doth go with thee; He will not fail thee, nor forsake thee."—Deut. xxxi. 6.

Yet if we will one Guide obey, The dreariest path, the darkest way, Shall issue out in heavenly day; And we, on divers shores now cast, Shall meet, our perilous voyage past, All in our Father's house at last.

So long as our existence lasts, we must not give up the duty of cheerfulness and hope. He who has guided us through the day, will guide us through the night also. The pillar of darkness often turns into a pillar of fire. Have patience and perseverance; believe that there is still a future before us, and we shall at last reach the haven where we would be.

Are You Ready

When your Children Cry for It

Baby has little upsets at times. All your care cannot prevent them. But you can be prepared. Then you can do what any experienced nurse would do—what most physicians would tell you to do—give a few drops of plain Castoria. No sooner done than Baby is soothed; relief is just a matter of moments. Yet you have eased your child without use of a single doubtful drug; Castoria is vegetable. So it's safe to use as often as an infant has any little pain you cannot pat away. And it's always ready for the crueler pangs of colic, or constipation, or diarrhea; effective, too, for older children. Twenty-five million bottles were bought last year.
